WorkXpress 2.0 is Officially Launched and Available

(Carlisle, PA) – WorkXpress is proud to officially launch the second generation of its revolutionary platform as a service (PaaS) today. WorkXpress 2.0 is the world's first 5GL (fifth generation software language) delivered as a service by offering ease of usability and full functionality to non-programming users while also offering programmers extended capability for time and cost savings.

"Our development of WorkXpress over the past 7-years has seen many highs and lows, but we believe the end product speaks for itself. I can confidently say that WorkXpress is the world's most functional and capable platform as a service without programming," said Treff LaPlante, president and CEO of WorkXpress. Kronos, a human capital management software company, revolves around good timing. For starters, it tracks employee work time, scheduling and other work processes to improve productivity. It also managed to go public back in 1992, make a bunch of acquisitions and then go private in 2007 just before the economy tanked. Simply put, Kronos cooks up [...]
